CENTURION ELECTRONICS PLC
SUPPLY AGREEMENT WITH PEUGEOT MOTOR COMPANY

Centurion Electronics plc ("Centurion" or the "Company"), the UK market leader in the field of in-car audio-visual entertainment systems, has reached an agreement with Peugeot Motor Company ("Peugeot") to supply Centurion's newly launched Plug & Play Blue™ portable in-car entertainment system for sale throughout the Peugeot UK dealer network from June 2004.

Plug & Play Blue™ will be available as an accessory across Peugeot's entire model range and has been specifically designed within Peugeot's specification. It features an eight-inch wide screen TFT LCD monitor with integrated DVD player which can be plugged into the car's lighter socket. A mains power supply also enables home use and it can be easily connected to another screen, TV or games console.

Peter Williams, Parts & Service Commercial Director at Peugeot commented: "This is an exciting product launch for Peugeot; Centurion have tailored this high-tech product to our requirements and I am convinced that the system's large eight-inch screen will be a popular accessory among Peugeot owners."

Brian Hendon, Chairman of Centurion, added: "We are delighted to be working with Peugeot to develop their in-car audio-visual entertainment programme. Our relationship with Peugeot is a further endorsement of our ability to design and implement brand specific systems for motor manufacturers."
