

Strictly embargoed until: 7.00 a.m., 2 December 2002

CENTURION ELECTRONICS PLC

PLACING AND ADMISSION TO TRADING ON AIM

Centurion Electronics plc ("Centurion" or the "Company"), a UK market leader in the field of in-car audio-visual entertainment, is today pleased to announce the admission of its Ordinary Shares to trading on the Alternative Investment Market (AIM) of the London Stock Exchange Plc.

Centurion, founded in 1993, focuses on the conception, design, marketing and distribution of in-car audio-visual products comprising DVD and video systems with the latest TFT LCD monitors, giving high picture quality and functionality. A professional range, branded Centurion™, incorporates screens mounted in headrests or in the car roof and is supplied to motor manufacturers such as Mazda, Alfa Romeo and Fiat, whilst the Plug & Play™ retail range is a portable system designed to plug into a vehicle's lighter socket and is available from leading multiple retailers such as Halfords, Dixons, Currys and Argos as well as franchise motor dealer groups including Pendragon.

Admission Statistics

Admission Price	30 pence
Number of new Ordinary Shares being placed	7,667,000
Gross proceeds of the Placing receivable by the Company	£2.3 million
Proportion of enlarged issued share capital subject to the Placing	36.5%
Number of Ordinary Shares in issue at Admission	21,000,000
Market capitalisation at Admission at the Placing Price	£6.3 million

Steven Cunningham, Chairman of Centurion, commented "We are delighted to begin trading on AIM. To have raised £2.3 million in these market conditions is an added endorsement of Centurion and its strategy for product development and expansion in the UK and Europe. Going forward, the increased profile given by an AIM listing will help us to maximise our visibility among both current and potential customers."

For further information please contact:

Steven Cunningham, Chairman, Centurion Electronics, Tel: 01707 330550, email: steven@ceplc.net

Lindsay Mair/John Prior, Corporate Synergy, Tel: 020 7626 2244, email: lmair@corporatesynergy.co.uk

Melissa Hubbard/Rosie Brown, Tavistock Communications, Tel: 020 7600 2288, email: rbrown@tavistock.co.uk

This information is derived from and should be read in conjunction with the full text of the prospectus dated 21 November 2002